

Spenser, America's Favorite Traveling Dog

Spenser is a nine-year-old Yorkshire terrier (Yorkie) but never call him a dog. He thinks he is as human as the rest of Mom's children and she agrees that he is (and, by far, the best behaved!). He lives with Mom in Savannah, Georgia, but spends most of his time on airplanes traveling with Mom to the places she works. He has logged over 1,000,000 miles on airplanes and has been loved and protected by hotel staffs everywhere. He has lots of two-legged and four-legged brothers and sisters who he loves very much. He is a very good traveler and likes to sniff children that he meets in airports and hotels. September 29 is Spenser's birthday and it is a special event for our family. Spenser would like for you to celebrate with him each September as he collects food for hungry children. September is also Hunger Awareness Month. Be sure to check out Spenser's green lessons – there is one in each book. They teach children how even little people can help make our world better. He hopes everyone enjoy his stories and share his adventures as he continues to travel across this great country. There are twelve stories on the drawing board already and we hope for many more to come. Maybe one day he will visit a city and school near you!
